Fabio Cavone graduated from The University of Molise in Italy with a Bachelor Degree in Science of Communication.

He continued his education attaining two Master's Degree, one in Public Relation at University of Bologna and the other in Information & Communication Technology Solution for Human Resources Development.

He started his career in his family's trade business focusing his attention on the international trade aspect, before being appointed as Development Agent for Internationalization at the Campobasso's City Chamber of Commerce (Unioncamere).

In 2007 he moved to China, Shanghai, where he got the opportunity to perform the Internship for his Master's Degree at ICE (Italian Trade Commission) and at the European Union Chamber of Commerce.

Having worked in the Recruitment industry since the year of 2011 in China, Japan, and Hong Kong, Fabio has been able to apply his education and experience in various roles including his current position as Consulting Manager at Gi Group.

Gi Group is the Italian largest and one of the world's leading companies providing HR solutions for the development of the labour market.

During this time Fabio has executed various senior executive search assignments and has thus provided business leaders at China and Asia level an important support and assistance on their human resources development plan and strategy.
