

Marco Camertoni – Biography

Marco Camertoni was born in Macerata, Italy on February, the 9th 1988.

In 2013 he got his Master Degree in International Economics and Business at “Università Politecnica delle Marche” in Ancona (110/110). During his studies he spent several months abroad having different internships in London (UK), Chicago (USA) and Hong Kong.

After graduation he joined Loccioni (www.loccioni.com), an Italian company specialized in supplying measuring and testing equipment in different business areas such as Automotive, Energy Efficiency, Environmental protection, Home Appliances and Healthcare.

After 1 year working in the International Business Department in the Headquarter, in 2014 he moved to Shanghai (PRC), working for Loccioni China branch.

From 2014 to 2017 he got the position of China Customer Care Manager first and China Sales Manager later.

In 2018 he became Managing Director of Loccioni China acting as Director of local team and supervising the setup of the Loccioni Japan office in Nagoya. He is currently still covering this position.

He fluently speaks Italian (mother tongue), English and French. He has some basic knowledge of Chinese.